

Grammarly Selected as a Winner of 2013 Red Herring Top 100 North America Award

San Francisco, Calif. – May 24, 2013 – Grammarly, the leading writing enhancement app, announced today that it has been selected as a winner of Red Herring’s Top 100 North America award, a prestigious list honoring the year’s most promising private technology ventures from the North American business region.

The Top 100 North America winners were announced at an awards ceremony in Monterey, Calif., on May 23, 2013. Grammarly was among the best performing and most innovative companies of the year recognized for technological innovation, management strength, market size, investor record, customer acquisition, and financial health.

“Selecting startups that show the most potential for disruption and growth is never easy,” said Alex Vieux, publisher and CEO of Red Herring. “We looked at hundreds and hundreds of candidates from all across the continent, and after much thought and debate, narrowed the list down to the Top 100 Winners. Each year, the competition gets tougher but we believe Grammarly demonstrates the vision, drive, and innovation that define a Red Herring winner.”

“Winning the Red Herring Top 100 North America award is an important milestone for Grammarly,” said CEO Brad Hoover, who presented at the Red Herring North America Forum. “Grammarly is on a mission to improve communication among the world’s more than two billion English writers. It’s excellent to receive recognition for both the importance of this goal and our progress in achieving it.”

Follow Grammarly on LinkedIn or Twitter for additional company updates.

About Grammarly

Grammarly improves communication among the world’s more than two billion native and non-native English writers. Its flagship product, the Grammarly Editor, corrects contextual spelling mistakes, checks for more than 250 common grammar errors, enhances vocabulary usage, and provides citation suggestions. More than 3 million registered users worldwide trust Grammarly’s products, which are also licensed by more than 100 leading universities and corporations. Grammarly is a privately held company with offices in San Francisco and Kiev. To learn more, visit Grammarly’s website or connect on Facebook (www.facebook.com/grammarly).