

Grammarly Nominated for Best Web Services & Applications Website in the 17th Annual Webby Awards

Vote Online to Help Grammarly Win Internet's Top Honor

San Francisco, Calif. — April 10, 2013 — Grammarly, the world's leading writing enhancement app, announced today that it has been nominated for Best Web Services & Applications website in the 17th Annual Webby Awards. The Webby Awards, presented by the International Academy of Digital Arts and Sciences (IADAS), is the leading international award honoring excellence on the Internet.

"Nominees like Grammarly are setting the standard for innovation and creativity on the Internet," said David-Michel Davies, executive director, The Webby Awards.

Grammarly's flagship product, the Grammarly Editor, acts as a second set of eyes to help users improve their writing. By using Grammarly, students get better grades, professionals accelerate their careers, job seekers get interviews, and English language learners improve their writing skills.

"We're thrilled to be nominated by The Webby Awards from more than 11,000 applicants for using the Internet to improve communication among the world's two billion English writers," said Brad Hoover, CEO, Grammarly.

As a nominee, Grammarly is also eligible to win a Webby People's Voice Award. From now until April 25, 2013 Grammarly fans can cast their votes at <http://pv.webbyawards.com/nominees/web/general-website/web-services-applications>.

Webby Award winners will be announced on April 30, 2013, and honored at a ceremony on May 21, 2013 at Cipriani on Wall Street in New York City.

About Grammarly

Grammarly (www.grammarly.com) improves communication among the world's 2+ billion English writers. Its flagship product, the Grammarly Editor, corrects contextual spelling mistakes, checks for more than 250 common grammar errors, and enhances vocabulary usage. More than 3 million registered users worldwide trust Grammarly's products, which are also licensed by more than 100 leading universities and corporations. Grammarly is a privately-held company with headquarters in San Francisco, California. To learn more, visit Grammarly's website or connect on Facebook (www.facebook.com/grammarly).

About The Webby Awards

Hailed as the "Internet's highest honor" by the New York Times, The Webby Awards is the leading international award honoring excellence on the Internet, including websites, interactive advertising & media, online film & video, and mobile & apps. Established in 1996, the 17th Annual Webby Awards received 11,000 entries from all 50 states and over 60 countries worldwide. The Webby Awards is presented by The International Academy of Digital Arts and Sciences. Sponsors and Partners of The Webby Awards include: Internet Explorer, Google+, Quancast, Yext, Vitamin T, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Mashable, The Occasional and Business Insider.

Media Contact:

Allison VanNest, Grammarly

Head of Communications

allison.vannest@grammarly.com

415-857-1560